

SCM Rapid Response Program

Service Center Metals is prepared to assist you with any orders related to our country's efforts to combat COVID-19. We're calling it the SCM Rapid Response Program.

For any die in our catalog, the extrusions you need for medical or military applications... in custom lengths, if necessary ... will take top priority and move to the front of our production schedules every day. Under this program, we'll produce these orders in 24 hours or less. There is no additional charge for this service.

We're operating at full capacity now and we're ready to join the fight. Please call your national sales manager or customer service manager to take immediate advantage of SCM Rapid Response.